- Legislative controversies exist regarding the functions performed by SEGA under the Access to Public Information Act and as to who, at the current moment, shall maintain the National Portal for Open Data
- Slow procedure for presentation, coordination and summarization of the information
- Technical issues related to security, data formats, automatic exchange of data, etc.
- Lack of funds and administrative capacity
- Insufficient awareness, understanding and grasp on the part of citizens and organizations
- There are data that, pursuant to third laws, are accessible upon payment of fee and the access to them is strictly regulated and available only for administrations
- The low quality of some data sets limits their larger scale use

BEST PRACTICES

Publication: National Statistical Institute

Metadata is published in open SDMX standard structured formats. Metadata for statistical information is presented in standardized European format - for users ESMS format, metadata for manufacturers ESQRS format.

Re-use: Electronic Service "Generating Dynamic Reports on Statistics"

This service is aimed at facilitating users and is available on the website of the institute under the heading NSSI/Statistics/Online Statistics. Data can be obtained for specific ages or groups of basic monthly pension sizes. Thanks to this, consumers will be able to consult both the number of pensioners and the average basic monthly amounts of pensions in different cuts.
